DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-7, and 34-36 are drawn to an isolated complex comprising heparin binding proteins platelet factor 4 and thrombospondin-1, classified in class 436, subclass 518.
 - II. Claims 8-10, drawn to a method for diagnosing type-2 heparin-induced thrombocytopenia, classified in class 436, subclass 147.
 - III. Claims 11-23, drawn to a method of detecting platelet factor 4/heparin/thrombospondin-1 ternary complex reactive immunoglobulin in a sample, classified in class 435, subclass 7.21.
 - IV. Claims 24-33, drawn to a method for identifying a person at risk for thrombotic complication of type 2 heparin-induced thrombocytopenia, classified in class 435, subclass 287.2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and (II, III, IV) are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of group I can be practiced in the process of groups II-IV.

3. Inventions II, III, IV are unrelated methods. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the unrelated methods have different modes of operation. Group II is drawn to a method for diagnosing type-2 heparin-induced thrombocytopenia from a patient receiving a heparin drug. Group III is drawn to a method of detecting the presence of platelet factor 4/heparin/thrombospondin-1 ternary complex reactive immunoglobulin that comprise method steps not required by Group II. Group IV is drawn to a method of identifying an individual at risk for thrombotic complication of type 2 heparin-induced thrombocytopenia. Groups II through IV are independent methods that are drawn to different method steps making them patenably distinct one from the other.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Please note that classifications in the restriction are illustrative only and do not represent all the classes and subclasses which must be searched for each invention; nor is the search limited to issued US patents, but rather includes foreign patents and applications as well as literature searches, therefore restriction for examination purposes as indicated proper.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
